

2016 - PWC Woman of Achievement Award

The Woman of Achievement Award is presented to a woman who has achieved professional excellence and made contributions to the A/E/C industry. This woman has a commitment to professional growth and serves as a role model. She shows self-motivation and dedication to the advancement of women in the A/E/C industry. Nominees for this award should have a minimum of 15 years' experience in the industry.

Why make a nomination?

Show her you recognize the contribution she makes in her organization/sector.

- Celebrate her achievements.
- Support her to advance her career through enhanced media coverage.
- Raise awareness of her contributions to a wider audience.
- Enable her to access personal development opportunities.
- Give her additional access to networking and collaboration opportunities across the professions.
- Promote her employer's brand.

Nominee Information

Name_____

Company_____

Address _____

Email_____

Telephone Number_____

Nominator Information

Name_____

Company_____

Address_____

Email_____

Telephone number _____

Please attach the following documentation with the nomination form. Note that incomplete applications will not be considered.

- Resume and/or biography describing her background
- A brief description of her contributions to the A/E/C industry.

Optional attachments may include:

- Any press/magazine articles about or authored by the nominee
- Letter of reference from a peer or supervisor
- A brief description of community involvement/service

In 500 words or less, please describe the how the nominee has achieved professional excellence within their area of specialty. The paragraph should cover the following aspects:

- Leadership ability
- Raising public awareness of women in the field
- Mentoring

Return the nomination by Dec. 1, 2016 to Roxanne Perugino at roxanne.perugino@stvinc.com.